Efficiently Create BIM Models from As-built Point Cloud Data

Previously, creating BIM models from point cloud data was a time consuming process, but EdgeWise can drastically change this.

- Pipe modeling can be done automatically by just importing structured point cloud data
- Pipes and elbows can be connected in one click, complementing missing sections in the point cloud
- Rich standards library allows auto-extraction to be fitted to desired standards
- Auto-extraction of walls
- Intelligent algorithms that automatically recognize patterns and efficiently model identical objects

Easily Model Elements and Export to BIM Software

EdgeWise smoothly exports modeled elements directly into Autodesk Revit, the major software in the industry, as functional Revit families. EdgeWise is also interoperable with other leading BIM software.
Ex.) Pipe models can be exported to PDMS, AUTOCAD Plant3D, etc.
